

ALLIES STRIKING AT DARDANELLES TO AID THE RUSSIAN FIGHTERS

M. D. L. Thomley, Cottonwood route 2, was in Dothan today on business.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT

Dothan, Like Every Other City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Dothan evidence of their merit:

L. E. Holliman, carpenter, 716 S. Appletree St., Dothan, says: "I suffered for five or six years from my kidneys. Severe pain in the small of my back gave me a whole lot of trouble when bending or lifting. The kidney secretions were always too frequent in passage and highly colored. I used various remedies, but didn't get any better. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I have never had any trouble since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Holliman had. Foster-Milburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEGRO CAUGHT

Lee Smith, a negro, wanted by the authorities, at Blakely, Ga., on a charge of jumping a bond, was arrested near Ashford by Deputies Aleeli May, Talmadge May and Ross Hornsby yesterday.

In order to reach the top market price for properly graded corn, it will be necessary to put same in an attractive package, and since we are living in the cotton belt, it is advisable to use cotton sacks whenever the price will permit.

Properly graded and packaged corn is just as staple as gold when the owner is in position to ship in car load lots, and the farmers of this State need not fear for they will receive a fair price for their corn when it is properly graded and packed.

The South has a distinctive advantage over the corn belt in the marketing of corn, in that our crop matures some 30 or 40 days ahead of the corn belt of the West, consequently if the farmers of this State will take advantage of this feature and properly prepare their corn for market, they will stand a chance of receiving the top price of the season on account of early deliveries.

If your community has not already a power corn sheller, it is high time that the farmers make it their business to either club in or arrange with some merchant-miller or grinner to have this machinery installed at once.

The process is arranged in such a way as to automatically grade the corn, No. 1 and No. 2 comes from this implement.

W. O. W. AFTER NEW MEMBERS

One hundred new members will be gathered in by the local lodge, Woodmen of the World, by October 9, if their plans do not fail, the local lodge having decided to conduct a whirlwind campaign for that many new members.

As a special inducement the initiatory fee, during the period of the contest, has been reduced from $5.00 to $3.00, and under this plan, it is believed that the membership will be greatly increased.

This special initiatory fee will hold good only during the contest.

The local lodge already has a large membership,

but more members are desired.

The State officers of the Woodmen of the World will be in Dothan October 19, for the purpose of initiating the Class of 100, which it is hoped to have by that time.

APPEAL FOR HELP IS MADE FOR AMERICANS

Mexico City, July 29.—(By courier to Vera Cruz, via Laredo, Texas, August 10.)—An appeal for help for Americans in Mexico and for the relief of the people of the country itself was sent today by the American Society of Mexico to the state department through the Brazilian minister. It resites conditions in the capital, which are described as inendurable, and which are declared to have driven Americans almost to desperation, and implores the Washington government to act promptly in bringing about amelioration.

"The American residents of Mexico appeal once more to their government and people in behalf of the suffering millions of pacific men, women and children in this country, who are victims of hunger and cruelty, and violence," the appeal begins. "These conditions put the gravest and most pressing responsibility upon the United States, which has not only passively permitted them but has promoted them with arms and ammunition and by encouragement to political adventures who have prostituted the name of liberty and the cause of human rights.

"Americans and other foreigners," the appeal continues, "stand aghast and wonder whether they can be living in the twentieth century and in a country bordering on the United States, which has made itself responsible to the world for protection of life and property here and yet does nothing more than send repeated warnings that are derided by half-savage men, drunk with ill-gotten power and the spirit of graft and hate.

"For many months the Americans here, driven almost to desperation, have tried to bring their government to a realization of the awful situation and begged that the American people be informed. Their request, long denied, was finally conceded in part by the president in his own statement of June 2 reciting briefly the conditions in Mexico.

"These conditions, then hardly endure, are much worse now and the apparent inactivity of the government at Washington fills Mexico with despair. There is not even a semblance of government here at the capital and we are living on a smoldering volcano. The entire city council has been imprisoned without cause. We have seen three changes of armed government in thirty days. There is no communication with the world except by special messengers."

MILLER WILL MEET FARMERS AND MERCHANTS

Mr. B. P. Miller, of Moultrie, Ga., will be in Dothan Friday and will meet the business men and farmers at the county court house at two o'clock in the afternoon. At this meeting diversification, marketing facilities, freight rates, etc., will be discussed, all subjects of great importance to this county at this time.

Mr. Miller is a railroad rate expert and has accomplished a great many things in the way of lower freight rates and better marketing facilities for the people of his section of Georgia. He promises to do the same things for us of this section if we wish to avail ourselves of his services, which can likely be secured now by concerted action on the part of farmers and business men of the county, as he has great faith in the future of this section.

It is hoped that a large crowd will be at the court house Friday afternoon to meet Mr. Miller and have an open and free discussion of the problems that confront this section.

CITIZENS WANT ROAD REPAIRED

A movement has been inaugurated in an effort to procure much needed repairs on the road from Dothan to Midland City, a large number of farmers, who own property along this road, having appeared before the County Commissioners today. Talks were made showing the necessity of the improvements.

The farming delegation was augmented by several Dothan citizens, who endorsed the plan for improvements on the road. Among the property owners present were: Dan Williams, Wesley Blalock, W. Warrick, J. T. Tidwell, George Kelly, J. G. Tidwell, Tom Hammock, Pierce Calhoun, Charlie Lott, J. M. Newton, J. T. Vickers, J. D. Heflin and Mose Patterson.

COMMITTEE OF HOUSTON COUNTY AGRICULTURISTS MEET

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Houston County Agricultural Association was held at the court house Tuesday afternoon, August 10th, nearly all of the committee being present. The President, Mr. A. J. Carroll, being unavoidably detained, Vice President C. F. Cassidy took the chair. After a full and earnest discussion of the agricultural situation, it being the opinion of every one present that already too much time had been lost with nothing definite being done, it was decided that some definite and decisive step should be taken at once, the problem being to secure some capable man to assist in locating markets for various crops that must be planted in larger quantities to take the place of cotton, and a man who had the ability and experience to secure proper freight rates for same.

The plan particularly discussed was the proposed commercial organization in Dothan with an executive committee composed of representative men from the towns and county to act as an executive committee. A letter from Mr. B. P. Miller of Georgia, said letter being in regard to his accepting the place as secretary of such an organization, was read and made quite a favorable impression. It was finally decided that, if proper results be secured every citizen of the entire county must feel interested and be willing to co-operate, and with that end in view the following resolution was read and adopted:

"That the Houston County Agricultural Committee, recognizing the absolute necessity of immediate co-operation between all the interests and all the people of the towns and county in Houston, and believing that the proposed plan of organization in Dothan is a good one, go on record as giving its full and thorough approval of same, and assure the business men of the town in the county that they are anxious for full co-operation and believe that is the only way to meet a dangerous situation that is existing today. On behalf of, and representing the farmers on the executive board of the organization in Dothan, the following were suggested and elected: C. W. Johnson, Chairman; R. H. Southland, O. L. McArthur, J. O. Godwin, Reuben Wilson, W. W. Eddings, J. A. Culbreth.

It was the sense of every one present that the organization should be completed and a competent secretary be secured at the earliest possible moment.

MUSKAMANS ARE DEFEATED WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 10.—The appearance on the Italian front of Austrian troops released from the Russian campaign is announced by The Tribune, in a dispatch from Laibach, Austria. These troops, to the number of 30,000, equipped with artillery, sufficient for two army corps, attacked the Italians yesterday outside of Gorizia. The Italians brought up additional artillery and after a battle of fifteen hours, the dispatch says, forced the Austrians to retreat into Gorizia, leaving 2,000 dead.

The Italians are said to have gained an important point strategically by joining forces between Romans and Doberdo, south of Gradiška. The Austrians endeavored to prevent this junction, losing heavily in the effort.

Will Newspapers Forget?

Montgomery Times.

When Senator Jones was trying to get through his bill to compel cities to publish quarterly statements of receipts and disbursements in some paper published in the incorporated towns, where such statements were to be made public, the bill was amended so as to make it optional with the town council to print the statement in a newspaper or post it in three conspicuous places in the town.

Some of those who were against the publication in the weekly newspapers and in favor of posting, are being mentioned for the high office of governor and other positions of honor. When these fellows come out for office they will be courting the little country weeklies and want their help if the country editors have any backbone and manhood about them—and we know they have—they will tell these candidates to go and stick what they want the public to know about them on the bill boards in the courthouse and nail it on posts in two other conspicuous places in the town.

This legislature is against the country newspapers. There is a bill pending that will give all of the county job work to out-of-state concerns or to big printing offices in the cities, if it becomes a law. The average job printing establishment in any town under five thousand inhabitants cannot bid on the printing; in fact, the bill is divided into two sections, so that only the very largest job offices in the state can bid on the work at all.

Why some members of the legislature have it in for the country weeklies and job offices is more than can be told.

Senator Jones is a friend of the weekly press and is doing all in his power to stem the tide, but he needs help, and he needs it badly. Those embryo politicians who hope to ride into office at some future date, should be made to feel the power of the country press, and every one of them should be left at home when he starts out to go after some job, for they are too small to see that the country editors need their home patronage and should have it.

The names of those who are fighting the country editors are known to Senator Jones, and he will make you wise at the proper time. They should be remembered, and it is thought that they will be told to do their own publicity act when they start out after plums.

If You Had a Thousand Dollars

From the New York Sun.

Economists, from practice, theory or dire necessity, joy riders, promoters, and all writers of moving appeals for temporary assistance, will find in the request of an Oklahoma woman to Secretary William Gibbs McAdoo of the Treasury Department, a model of directness of touch, a fertility of ideas and a lesson in urgent necessities. The Oklahoma woman asks for a thousand dollars, if she gets it she intends to buy a cow, an automobile and a set of false teeth.

"I money go before, all ways do lie open." But how to spend it? The sage advice of all once poor boys who grew up to employ their time clipping coupons is that since the "first thousand is the hardest to get," save and invest. But a man in this wretched state, perhaps one of her neighbors, put his money into a house and along came a cyclone and carried its pieces into an adjoining county. Another invested his savings in a brick, that assayed three cents of gold and a penny of lead. Still another purchased fifty-two percent a year bonds just before the presidency of the concern was removed to the federal prison. No encouragement!

She might have bought a motor boat and tinkered with its machinery. She might have gone traveling and gladdened the hearts of Pullman porters; perhaps come to New York and with her thousand dined and had enough to tip the waiter. But she would have none of these envying, weakening frivolities.

What she asked of fate and the Treasury Department was a cow for sustenance, an automobile for pleasure, and teeth to meet the finding necessities of life. Becky Sharp solved the problem of living well on nothing a year; but she confessed that it was "so easy to be good" on a few thousand pounds a year. Since her day, though, standards have changed, up and down the scale. Perhaps a thousand dollars is now enough for goodness and happiness. If you had a thousand, how much better would you spend it than would this Oklahoma woman?

How is your watch? If it is not correct let us repair it for you. We can do it as it should be done. Strickland Jewelry Co.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa.—"When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache."

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." —Mrs. FRANCIS CHALK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Here's to the Sweet Potato.

Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Wheat and corn are essentials in a great nation like this. Any conditions which injure these crops bring on several types of distress. But there are other products of the soil which add much to the joy of a people that likes something on the side. In some parts of the world the plain Irish potato is a necessity. It can be also used by chefs and others who are experts in cookery in various agreeable ways. As a tempter to the appetite, however, it is not even remotely connected with the sweet potato. Treated with the consideration it deserves the sweet potato is a luxury all can enjoy.

This product is very near to the heart and appetite of all Virginians—and Virginians have the reputation of knowing what constitutes good living. It will interest the Old Dominion to know that the soil has been kind to this article of food.

It is a comfort to tell this people that there were planted this year of our Lord over 660,000 acres of this vegetable, as compared with 603,000 last year. The mathematician will tell you that the probable yield will be 64,000,000 bushels, or an increase of nearly 8,000,000 bushels over 1911.

Even the 'possum will await the harvest. May the ipomoea batatas grow forever!

COW PEAS HAY

Cow peas make excellent hay second to none but alfalfa. The vines being rather coarse and containing much moisture makes it rather hard to cure. There is not much commercial market for this hay owing to its coarseness and frequent damage in curing; however, the feed value is so good; the effect as a soil improver so important and the adaptability as a summer cover crop following small grain is sufficient to justify its general use as a hay crop for domestic purposes.

Because pea vine hay is more difficult to cure does not necessarily mean that it cannot be cured successfully.

There are more peas sown for hay in Alabama than all other hay plants taken together. It is of vital importance that this crop be saved to the best advantage, therefore I offer the following suggestions hoping that it will encourage the saving of all the excellent crop assuring a better quality.

Do not let the vines get too ripe and begin shedding the leaves too freely before cutting. Do not let the hay lay broadcast until the leaves will crumble and waste. Just before reaching this stage, the hay should be collected into pyramids supported by a frame in the shape of a cone with cross beams to hold it off the ground so as to admit air under and in the center of the pyramid. The vines hold moisture for several days and it is necessary that the hay be stacked in a loose condition to prevent heating and moulding. It is best not to put too much hay on the pyramid at first but may be added gradually, getting as much as possible in each pyramid so as to reduce the number.

Pyramids of pea vines are often allowed to stand for several weeks in the weather. More hay is damaged or totally lost in this condition than any other. Pea vines are too coarse to turn water and the pyramid must have a cheap and effective cover. A sheet of osnaburg six feet square with weights hung to the corners will afford protection as long as desired. People living near cotton mills can get osnaburg mill ends by the pound very cheap and will find these covers very useful on the farm for many things after they have served as hay covers.

Do not make mistakes with you cow pea hay. It is too good a thing to suffer for lack of proper precaution.
